Ketchum Starts Live Broadcasts of Council Meetings

P & Z Broadcasts Also Available

KETCHUM, Idaho – Live broadcasts of Ketchum City Council and Planning & Zoning Commission meetings can now be heard on the Internet.

To listen, go to ketchumidaho.org, click on “Public Meeting Information” on the left side of the page, and follow the instructions. Broadcasts of previous meetings, as well as information packets on key agenda items, are available.

“Our goal is to make public meetings more accessible to Ketchum residents,” Mayor Nina Jonas said. “We see this as a major step, as people can now listen to a discussion as it takes place or at a later time.”

The city plans to improve the video broadcast soon, said Lisa Enourato, assistant to the city administrator and communications coordinator.
