Summer Youth Recreation Programs Start June 8

More than 25 Activities through City Parks & Recreation Department

Registration is open for more than 25 activities hosted by the Ketchum Summer Youth Recreation Program that starts Monday, June 8.

Activities offered by the Ketchum Parks & Recreation Department range from tennis to gardening to geocaching and much, much more. They also include Friday Adventure day trips to nearby attractions such as lakes and caves. Children who will enter the third grade next fall through age 14 may participate.

“Participants meet new friends and learn new activities that stay with them a lifetime,” says John Kearney, who attended city recreation programs himself as a youngster and now manages the recreation division of the Parks & Recreation Department.

Participants may sign up for daily, weekly or seasonal programs. Scholarships are available.

Online registration is available at www.ketchumidaho.org/registration. For additional information, call John Kearney, recreation supervisor, at 726-7820, ext. 100.
